Photobiomodulation (PBM)

About PBM

PBM has been acknowledged as a primary keyword as the future clinical method in the medical subject headings (MeSH) of the research papers published in the US National Institute of Health (NIH).

Nogier Frequency

This equipment is applied to optical pulsing with 7–frequency bands which resonate with natural frequencies developed by Dr. Paul Nogier, France. You can program different settings for different symptoms.

Frequency A | 292Hz Cellular Vitality

Resonates with the Ectoderm (outermost tissue) that forms skin, glands, nerves, eyes, ears, teeth, brain and spinal cord. Assists wound healing, skin and nerve repair, and reduces scar tissue, inflammation and tumors. Try D if a chronic condition related to A is not improving. Frequency A is a universal frequency (as is G) that can be tried to any condition.

Frequency B | 584 Hz Autonomic Nerve Balance

Resonates with Endoderm (innermost tissue) that forms the lining of the intestinal tract, the lungs, the bladder, the urethra, and the auditory tube. It also forms the thyroid, thymus, liver, gall bladder and pancreas. Improves nutritional assimilation, allergy problems and balances the parasympathetic nervous system. Used for circulatory problems, edema, and lymph problems.

Frequency C | 1,168 Hz Muscle & Blood Circulation

Resonates with Mesoderm (middle tissue) that forms connective tissue such as ligaments, tendons, cartilage, muscle, and bone. It also forms the heart, blood and lymph vessels, kidneys, ovaries, testes, spleen, and the cortex of the adrenal gland. Used for muscle, skeletal and myofascial pain.* Try D if chronic condition related to C is not improving.

Frequency D | 2,336 Hz Mind and Body Rest

Helps to balance the two sides of the brain. May also help reduce and treat stress.

Frequency E | 4,672 Hz Peripheral Nervous System

Used for spinal and skin disorders and for pain control. Resonates with the spinal cord and peripheral nervous system. Veterinary experience: Reduces excess calcification such as bone spurs and arthritic joints.

Frequency F | 73 Hz Hormonal Balance

Resonates with the sub-cortical or lower regions of the brain, including the thalamus and hypothalamus—two major control centers for body functions. May also help with muscle spasms, facial pain, headaches and depression. Has been used for non-healing bone fractures and to help balance hormones. Veterinary experience: Improves circulation.

Frequency G | 146 Hz Brain Activation

Used for memory, psychological disorders, nervousness and worry. Resonates with the cerebral cortex of the brain—involved with thinking, imagining and creating. Veterinary experience: Reduces inflammation and scar tissue on tendons and ligaments, reduces edema and improves gums. Frequency G is a universal frequency (as is A) that can be tried for any condition.

Space Energy Device

$9,000 USD

“SPACE ENERGY” refers to a device that cohere and emit the energy using the constant geometric structured plate. This near to ZERO, nonelectronic magnetic energy aids in vivoactivity through rotary (swirl) motion, which differs from electric energy. This energy balances the microorganisms by transforming the energy flow and the matter in the space.

Beyond air pollution level and oxygen concentration, living microorganisms occupying the space in the forest and the city are different. This can be easily seen in the distinguishable fermentation level of the fermented food in the urban and rural areas.

What is deuterium depleted water (DDW)?

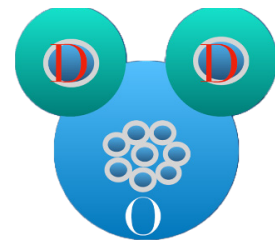

Light water = H₂O

Out of all water molecules,
99.957%

Deuterium = D₂O

Out of all water molecules,
1/3,300

Tritium = HTO

Very rare, out of all water
molecules 1/4,100x10⁵

Deuterium is formed with one hydrogen atom and a deuterium atom (heavy hydrogen isotope) with the oxygen atom to form a deuterium water. Currently, these deuterium water can be found in the sea and fresh water. Out of all water in the earth, there are around 6 drops (300mg) of deuterium per 1 L of water.

From various research studies started from 1960s to 1990s, scientific researchers have confirmed that the rats that drank low-level of deuterium water has lower probability of error in the cell division and can recover the damaged DNA from radiology much effectively to aid the survival rate.

A way to antiaging & health

Numerous studies have evidenced the benefits from depleting the deuterium level in the body. These benefits include antiaging and enhancing body energy (ATP). In general, the water at the equator has about 155 ppm of deuterium. If the deuterium level of the body gets lower even just 10 ppm, the studies have shown that the body gained more energy, reducing cancer cells and health.

Wave energy delivered to the whole body

Expect smooth blood circulation by stimulating the blood vessels and enhancing the muscle strength in a matter of short time through powerful muscular contraction with repeated contraction and release of the muscular fibers by stimulating them with the wave energy in greater intensity than gravitational pull. On top of stimulating large muscles, it can stimulate even smallest muscles in the face and inside the pelvis, which are impossible to exercise through regular weight training workouts. Wave energy soothes ligament and tendon that are hard to stimulate through regular exercises.

Sonicwave vibration therapy burns much more calories than general aerobic workouts. Synergetic effect is expected when the wave therapy is combined with prior power training and/or whole-body PBM therapy and Hyperbaric Oxygen therapy.

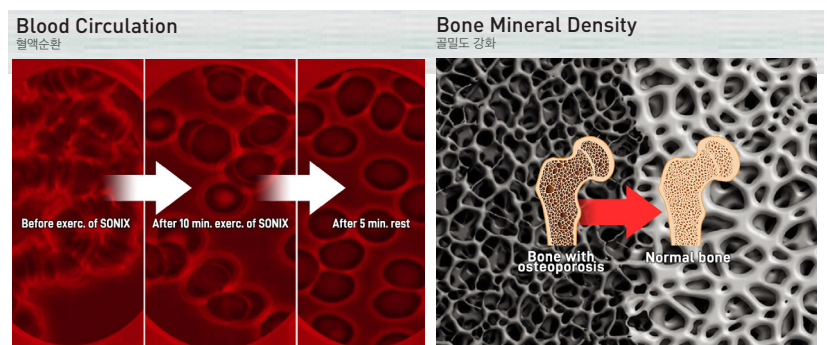

Effect of Sonicwave Vibration Therapy

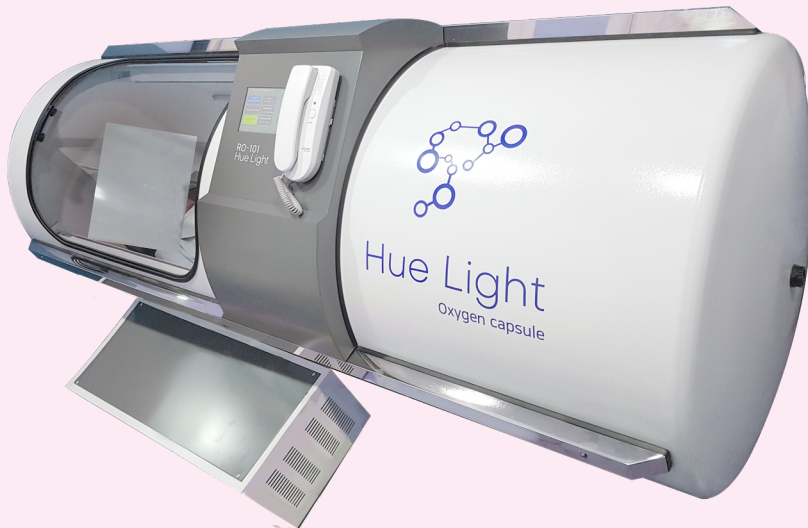

- Increase flexibility and joint mobility
- Workout effect without straining the Joint, ligament and tendon
- Recover elasticity of the skin and muscles
- Prevent & improve muscular skeletal disease through the vitalization of muscular tissues
- Prevent osteoporosis and increase bone density
- Reduce body fat by working out the core muscles
- Aid in removing cellulite through blood circulation and lymph vitalization
- Concurrent aerobic and anaerobic exercise effect

Hyperbaric Oxygen Capsule

$28,000 USD

"Soluble Oxygen" is an effective treatment for peripheral circulatory disorders, brain diseases, and infected wound.

Over 40% of concentrated O₂ is absorbed inside the high-pressure Oxygen chamber. This treatment method increases the oxygen saturation level inside the cells and the blood vessels. It was originally applied for partial disorders including decompression sickness (DCS), carbon monoxide-poisoning; moreover, recently clinical studies are backing evidences that it can also be helpful for Parkinson's and Alzheimer's.

Effect of Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy

- ☒ Improve stagnant hypoxic state of the cells
- ☒ Accelerate wound healing
- ☒ Sterilizing effect by leukocytes a.k.a. white blood cells : applicable states include bacterial infection, gas gangrene, necrotizing fasciitis, osteomyelitis, and etc.
- ☒ Increase the effect of chemotherapy treatment for treating malignant tumor
- ☒ Expedite Nitrogen gas excretion within the body
